Background:

Rulemaking 19-09-009 facilitates the commercialization and deployment of microgrids while prioritizing system, public, and worker safety and avoiding shifting costs between ratepayers. On September 12, 2019, the Commission initiated this Rulemaking to design a framework surrounding the commercialization of microgrids associated with Senate Bill (SB) 1339 (Stern, 2018), as well as to account for the Commission’s commitment toward utilizing additional technologies and activities that may be useful for achieving overall resiliency goals.

As part of the rulemaking, the CPUC organized a working group to facilitate thoughtful and informed discussions to continue to support the goal of resiliency and the commercialization of microgrids. Specifically, the RMWG will further explore issues not previously addressed or under current consideration by the Commission. The topics may be subject to change and reprioritization as the discussions evolve over the course of the working group meetings.

Purpose of the Meeting:

With the Redwood Coast Airport Microgrid project breaking ground this spring, Dana Boudreau of Redwood Coast Energy Authority (RCEA) and Jeremy Donnell of Pacific Gas & Electric (PG&E) will answer questions on how the Community Microgrid Enablement Tariff (CMET) is able to address requirements of this specific pilot project, discuss how the CMET model applies to multicustomer microgrids more generally, and highlight future topics still requiring exploration. Questions will cover topics such as participation in wholesale markets, operational coordination, consumer protection, financial compensation, and socialized costs.
