Section 1. Executive Summary

1. Brief description of the PSPS event starting from the time when the utility's Emergency Operation Center is activated until service to all customers have been restored. (D.21-06-014, page 286, SED Additional Information.)

Southern California Edison (SCE) submits this post-event report to demonstrate its compliance with the California Public Utilities Commission's (CPUC or Commission) PSPS guidelines including Resolution ESRB-8, PSPS Order Instituting Rulemaking (OIR) Phase 1 (Decision (D.) 19-05-042), Phase 2 (D.20-05-051), Phase 3 (D.21-06-034) and PSPS Order Instituting Investigation (OII) (D.21-06-014). [1]

This report addresses the event that started on October 7, 2026, at 12:30 p.m. and ended on October 18, 2026, at 2:30 p.m. with the number of counties listed in Table 1 below. This report explains SCE's decision to call, sustain, and conclude the de-energization event, and provides detailed information to facilitate the Commission's evaluation of SCE's compliance with applicable PSPS guidelines.

This event covered multiple Period of Concerns (POC) as a result of evolving weather forecasts. A summary of the timeline for this event is provided below.

On October 7, 2026, SCE's meteorologists identified the potential for dangerous fire weather conditions due to a trough of low-pressure diving south from the Pacific Northwest, bringing gusty onshore winds to the Eastern Sierra and Southern California mountain desert-facing slopes beginning on October 10, 2026, in portions of Inyo, Los Angeles, Mono, and San Bernardino Counties. On October 12, 2026, SCE's meteorologists identified additional fire weather concerns due to strong Santa Ana Winds for Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and Ventura Counties, which extended the initial POC to October 16, 2026. On October 14, 2026, SCE's meteorologists identified additional fire weather concerns for Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Madera, Santa Barbara, Tulare, and Ventura Counties, which extended the initial POC to October 17, 2026. On October 16, 2026, SCE meteorologists identified additional fire weather concerns in portions on Mono County, extending the POC through October 19, 2026. On October 17, 2026, the POC for Mono County was removed from scope. The National Weather Service (NWS) also issued Red Flag and High Wind Warnings for portions of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Mono, Santa Barbara, Tuolumne, and Ventura Counties during portions of the POC.

In response to this forecasted fire weather, SCE activated its dedicated PSPS Incident Management Team (IMT) to manage this event and began sending advance notifications of potential PSPS to Public Safety Partners, Critical Facilities and Infrastructure customers, and other customers in scope.[2] SCE also coordinated with PG&E to dispatch notifications to three (3) impacted PG&E customers.

[1]This PSPS post-event report is based on the best information and data available as of the filing deadline for the report. SCE continues to gather, analyze, and validate some of the underlying data, and will supplement this report with updated information, as needed, in its annual post-season report. See D.21-06-014, Ordering Paragraph (OP) 66, p. 305 (directing SCE to "provide aggregate data .in an annual report, including aggregate data that may not have been available at the time the utility filed the 10-day post-event report").

This PSPS event concluded after fire weather conditions were no longer forecasted to impact the SCE service area; the IMT de-mobilized on October 18, 2026. SCE recognizes that de-energizations pose significant challenges and hardships for our customers and the public safety partners that provide services to the affected communities. SCE's decision to activate its PSPS protocol is based on consideration and weighing of multiple factors, including forecasted weather, fuel conditions, infrastructure vulnerabilities, and potential impacts of PSPS on public safety partners and the communities we serve.

SCE is committed to continuously improving its PSPS processes and welcomes input from customers, public safety partners, community representatives, and local governments on ways to minimize the impact of PSPS events.

DECISION-MAKING CADENCE

During times when fire weather conditions, including low humidity, strong winds and dry vegetation are present, SCE identifies the potential to exceed wind speed thresholds up to seven days prior to a possible period of concern (POC). In some cases, weather patterns emerge within seven days of an event, which will shorten the timeline. Occasionally, "rogue circuits" will hit de-energization wind speeds without advance forecasting and will need to be deenergized immediately to protect community safety.

Prior to the start of the POC, the PSPS team moves from forecasting to real-time weather monitoring, using SCE's pole-top weather stations and public (third-party) weather stations. Every 10 minutes, SCE weather station readings are updated for each circuit. The team monitors actual conditions to confirm if wind speeds are meeting de-energization criteria.

FORECASTING

Custom weather models, run by SCE's four supercomputers produce forecasts of weather and fuel moisture. These models incorporate both public and proprietary data to create granular, localized forecasts within SCE's many microclimates. SCE uses these forecasts to set the scope and duration of the POC.

WEATHER MODELING

SCE uses a suite of high-resolution models that are calibrated using historical weather station data from its network of approximately 2,000 pole-top weather stations located on or near most circuits, as well as from third-party weather stations. These models, including machine learning models, have lower predictive errors than public models. As the number of SCE weather stations recording point-specific weather data increases, we improve the accuracy and granularity of our forecasts.

Weather data includes wind speeds, wind gusts, wind direction, temperature, humidity, dew

[5]The information requested in this table including Circuit, Segment, De-energization date/time, Re-energization date/time, and values for Threshold, Forecast, and Actual readings for SCE's decision criteria are included in Table SCE-01 of this report.
[6]For Table SCE-01. "N/A" refers to circuits that were not included in the original PSPS forecast Period of Concern but were identified for de-energization during event operations based on evolving conditions. Therefore, forecast values were not used operationally in the decision-making process for these circuits.

point, and precipitation. Wind speeds, gusts, direction, and dew point measurements are calculated as inputs to the weather component of relative fire risk (Fire Behavior Matrix, below). Temperature, dew point, precipitation, and humidity are used in fuel-moisture modeling.

Individual components are forecast hourly for each 1 km-by-1 km grid cell. The 1-km square resolution allows the models to more accurately assess weather in California's microclimates.

FUEL MOISTURE MODELING

To model fuel moisture, SCE uses two fuel moisture inputs that measure the amount of water contained in vegetation, expressed as a percentage of dry weight. Live fuel moisture is the amount of moisture within living vegetation that derives its moisture content from the soil. Dead fuel moisture is categorized by the time that dead vegetation takes to respond to the cumulative effects of atmospheric conditions based on the size of the fuel.

Live fuel moisture is modeled using standardized data collected by fire agencies and augmented by SCE at 25 sites in seven fire-prone areas. This data is publicly available on the Fire Environment Mapping System (FEMS) website (fems.fs2c.usda.gov).

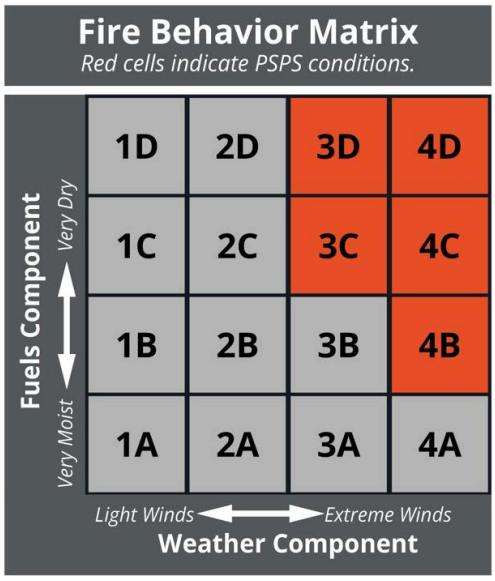

Samples of native vegetation from each of the sites are weighed, dried and then weighed again to determine the vegetation's moisture content.

Dead fuel moisture forecasts are generated using mathematical algorithms that account for the effects of precipitation, temperature, and relative humidity on the vegetation.

FIRE BEHAVIOR MATRIX

The data collected from the weather and fuel modeling are used to generate the Fire Behavior Matrix (FBM). FBM is a visualization that presents the relative fire risk of the weather event. The fuels component comprises four rows, and the weather component comprises four columns, creating a grid of 16 cells.

Visual 1. Fire Behavior Matrix

Red cells represent extreme combinations of critical weather and dry fuels that are historically associated with significant wind-driven wildfires specific to each Fire Climate Zone (FCZ). If weather and fuel conditions fall within these red cells and forecast wind speeds exceed a circuit's activation wind speed threshold, the circuit will be in scope for PSPS.

The relative fire risk visualized in the FBM generally relates to the rate of spread, flame length (the distance between the flame tip and the midpoint of the flame depth at the base of the flame) and fireline intensity (a measure of the heat transfer per unit time at the head of the fire) of wildfires, as well as the suppression tactics needed to achieve containment objectives.

Weather Component:

The weather component is calculated using measures of wind speed and the dryness of the air near the ground. The windier and drier the air is, the more likely the vegetation will dry out and become increasingly flammable if an ignition were to occur. The weather component is calculated using the following formula:

$$Weather\ Component = \frac{Wind\ Speed^2\ X\ Dryness\ of\ the\ air}{1{,}000}$$

Wind speed is weighed twice in the formula because of its strong influence on fire spread even when other conditions, such as less dry fuels, would otherwise reduce the overall fire threat. Dewpoint depression is used as a measure of the dryness of the air; the greater the dewpoint depression, the drier the air is.

Fuels Component:

The fuels component is a measure of the flammability of the vegetation based on its moisture content, using the formula below:

$$Fuels\ Component = (Dead\ Fuel\ Moisture + Live\ Fuel\ Moisture)\ X\ Greenness$$

Greenness is a measure of how green or how cured the vegetation is using the Normalized Difference Vegetation Index (usgs.gov/landsat-missions/landsat-normalized-difference-vegetation-index).

IN-EVENT DECISION-MAKING

Prior to the start of the POC, the PSPS team moves from forecasting to real-time weather monitoring. Every 10 minutes, SCE weather station readings are updated for each circuit to determine if wind speeds meet de-energization criteria. These readings are publicly available.

WIND SPEEDS FOR DISTRIBUTION CIRCUITS

The baseline criteria for distribution circuits is the starting wind speed for determining when to de-energize. SCE sets baseline activation limits for each circuit or fully isolatable circuit segment based on circuit construction and conductor type:

- Bare wire circuits: Set at the lower of the National Weather Service's (NWS) Wind Advisory level, defined as sustained wind speeds of 31 mph and gusts of 46 mph; or the 99th percentile of historical wind speeds for the circuit (which represents extreme and unusual wind activity for the area). At a wind speed of 31 mph, debris or vegetation may become airborne, as described by the Beaufort Wind Scale.
- Covered conductor (100% coverage): Set at 40 mph for sustained winds and 58 mph for gusts. This aligns with the NWS high wind warning level for wind speeds at which infrastructure damage might occur.
- Legacy (outage-informed) circuits: Set below the NWS advisory level because these circuits have a history of outages at lower wind speeds.

Circuit-specific factors are used to adjust baseline criteria to determine activation wind speed thresholds. These factors include both fire consequence, as determined by fire spread simulations, and circuit health conditions based on existing documented potential hazards and findings from patrols within the seven days leading up to the POC.

After discounts, the minimum activation thresholds are forecast sustained wind speeds of 25 mph or gusts of 35 mph, although these criteria are subject to review during the event, based on circuit specific factors.

Event-specific factors are used to determine de-energization wind triggers. These factors include:

- Anticipated fire suppression resource availability.
- Event size, including the number and type of circuits in scope for the event.
- Event complexity, including resource availability and operational requirements to manage the event. Declarations by NWS of Red Flag Warning with Particularly Dangerous Situation (PDS).
- High Risk Status Events that include risk of urban conflagration or potentially susceptible system configurations (see High Risk Decision-Making).

The PSPS operations team initiates actions to de-energize the applicable circuits when circuits either meet criteria or reach a percentage of wind speed triggers and are trending upward.

After discounts, the minimum de-energization triggers are observed sustained wind speeds of 23.7 mph or gusts of 35.2 mph, although these criteria are subject to review during the event, based on circuit and event-specific factors. Refer to Visual 2 for a flowchart of decision-making criteria for distribution circuits.

Visual 2. Flowchart of Decision Criteria for Distribution Lines

Wind Speeds for Transmission and Sub transmission Circuits
For transmission and subtransmission circuits, the baseline criteria are informed by the engineering and structural design ratings for each circuit. For subtransmission lines, the baseline wind criteria are 56 mph for sustained winds and 68 mph for gusts. For transmission lines, the baseline wind criteria are 68 mph or higher for sustained winds and 82 mph or higher for gusts, based on structural design standards.

Circuit-specific factors are used to adjust baseline criteria to determine activation wind speed thresholds for transmission and subtransmission. These factors include both fire consequences, as determined by fire spread simulations and circuit health conditions based on existing documented potential hazards and findings from patrols within the seven days leading up to the period of concern. After discounts, the minimum activation thresholds are forecast sustained wind speeds of 50.4 mph or gusts of 61.2 mph, although these criteria are subject to review in-event, based on circuit-specific factors.

Event-specific factors are used to determine de-energization wind triggers for transmission and subtransmission circuits. These factors include:

- Anticipated fire suppression resource availability.
- Declarations by NWS of PDS Red Flag Warning.
- High Risk Status Events that include risk of urban conflagration or potentially susceptible system configurations (see High Risk Decision-Making).

After discounts, the minimum de-energization triggers are observed sustained wind speeds of 47.8 mph or gusts of 58.1 mph, although these criteria are subject to review in-event, based on circuit- and event-specific factors. Subtransmission and transmission monitoring are similar to distribution monitoring; once the PSPS IMT is activated for the event, actual wind speeds are continuously monitored, and the PSPS operations team initiates actions to de-energize the applicable circuits when circuits either meet criteria or reach a percentage of wind speed triggers and are trending upward. Refer to Visual 3 for a flowchart of decision-making criteria for transmission and subtransmission.

Visual 3. Flowchart of Decision Criteria for Subtransmission and Transmission Lines

HIGH RISK DECISION-MAKING

Most de-energization decisions are based on real-time weather observations within the POC. However, there are two categories of PSPS decision-making that are based on forecasting, in which de-energization of a circuit or segment could occur near the start of the POC, before real-time wind speeds have reached the de-energization trigger for the circuit. Both types of high risk de-energizations will occur only within PSPS activations (although they could be triggered for rogue circuits or changes in weather with little or no advance warning).

1. High Risk Status Events (Urban Conflagrations) Through updated risk modeling, SCE has identified a subset of HFRA circuits that have a heightened potential to generate an urban conflagration at sustained wind speeds in excess of 40 mph for distribution and 56 mph for subtransmission and transmission lines. If wind speeds at or above these thresholds are forecast, distribution circuits or segments may be de-energized when wind speeds are trending upward and have reached 25 mph sustained or 35 mph gusts. For high-risk status transmission lines, those lines will be deenergized near the start of the POC.

2. High-Risk Status Equipment

Certain distribution circuit segments and transmission and subtransmission lines may undergo review for potentially susceptible system conditions or configurations that could sustain damage at PSPS thresholds. On a temporary basis, until those issues can be appropriately assessed and, if necessary, remediated, distribution circuits or segments may be de-energized when wind speeds are trending upward toward PSPS thresholds and have reached 25 mph sustained or 35 mph gusts. High-risk status transmission and subtransmission lines will be de-energized near the start of the POC.

In both categories, these circuits or segments of lines will remain de-energized until after patrol and inspection at the end of the event.

Forecasted versus actual weather parameters for this event were as follows:

- Wind: Sustained winds of 20-to-50 mph and wind gusts of 30-to-70 mph were forecast for Fresno, Inyo, Kern, Los Angeles, Madera, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, Tulare, and Ventura Counties during this event, with isolated areas of higher gusts up to 100 mph. Peak observed wind speeds in areas of concern were 62 mph sustained and 83 mph gusts during this event.

- Relative humidity: Relative humidity during this event was forecast to be between 10% and 30% for the counties in scope concurrent with the strong winds. Actual observed relative humidity ranged from 1% to 38% during this event. As discussed in Section 2-1 above, relative humidity is just one of many variables that inform SCE's FBM ratings.

De-energization decisions are made as circuits approach or meet de-energization wind triggers and trend upwards, often at a percentage of wind speed triggers depending on the risks noted above. SCE considered the following factors when deciding to conclude this de-energization event:

- Weather modeling for the areas of concern. SCE's meteorologists indicated elevated fire weather conditions would continue to abate below wind and FBM thresholds throughout the night on October 17, 2026, to forecasted decreasing wind speeds and FBM.

- Observed wind speeds and FBM ratings. Observed wind and FBM ratings for all circuits in scope no longer met de-energization threshold criteria as of 5 p.m. on October 17, 2026.

4. An explanation of how the utility determined that the benefit of de-energization outweighed potential public safety risks, and analysis of the risks of de-energization against not de-energizing for each circuit or circuit segment. The utility must identify and quantify customer, resident, and the general public risks and harms from de-energization and clearly explain risk models, risk assessment processes, and provide further documentation on how the power disruptions to customers, residents, and the general public is weighed against the benefits of a proactive de-energization (D.19-05- 042,

SCE assesses and compares potential public safety risks associated with proactive de-energization (PSPS risk) and simulated wildfire risk (PSPS benefit in avoiding a wildfire) for all circuits in scope for the POC, using its PSPS In-Event Risk Comparison Tool.[7] Inputs into this tool include, among other factors, wildfire simulations, and circuit specific data. The results of these circuit specific assessments are displayed in the Central Data Platform and used by Incident Commanders to inform de-energization decisions, in conjunction with other relevant quantitative and qualitative factors described in Section 2 of this report. Incident Commanders consider these assessments in making de-energization decisions to ensure the wildfire risk (PSPS benefit in avoiding a wildfire) outweighs the risk associated with PSPS for each circuit in scope.

The circuit-specific criteria and data used in this assessment include:

- For PSPS Risk: Customers served, estimated population, and the relative ranking of the circuits in scope by the percentage of customers with Access and Functional Needs (AFN) and Non-Residential Critical Infrastructure (NRCI) customers.

- For Wildfire Risk: Wildfire simulations (using Technosylva FireRisk[8] modeling) for potential ignitions based on dynamic, in-event weather, and wind conditions in proximity to the circuits in scope for de-energization. These conditions are used to determine the extent of an estimated fire footprint (or fire shed). Within that fire shed, the risk of a wildfire is calculated based on the number of structures, population, and acres potentially threatened within the impacted area.

The resulting outputs of the PSPS In Event Risk Comparison Tool are used to calculate potential Safety, Financial, and Reliability impacts (or attributes) of: (1) a wildfire and (2) a proactive de-energization event, as summarized in the table below:

[7]SCE will continue to refine the PSPS In-Event Risk Comparison Tool based on real-time experience, additional data, modeling enhancements, and ongoing benchmarking with other IOUs. Estimates and assumptions described herein are based on risk models reflecting current industry best practices (such as FireRisk (formally FireCast) and are subject to being updated as the modeling improves.
[8]Technosylva is a suite of wildfire simulation models or tools. While relying on a similar underlying fire propagation engine, each model is designed to support a unique use case. FireRisk (formally FireCast) is specifically designed to forecast ignition risk associated with electric utility assets over a 7-day horizon based on expected short-term weather conditions.

Risk Attribute	Wildfire Consequences	PSPS Consequences
Safety	SCE calculates the estimated number of fatalities and serious injuries based on a forecast of impacted population within the Technosylva wildfire consequence simulation. This number, in turn, is converted into the Safety index.	SCE leverages epidemiological studies and information drawn from past widespread power outage events including the 2003 Northeast Blackout, the 2011 Southwest Blackout, and the IOUs' 2019 PSPS post-event reports.[9] The resulting estimates of fatalities and serious injuries per customer minutes interrupted (CMI) are intended to approximate potential safety consequences due to the power outage, such as illnesses resulting from food spoilage or exacerbation of existing underlying health conditions. SCE enhanced the PSPS safety attribute through the application of a circuit-specific AFN/NRCI multiplier. This multiplier represents the relative ranking of each circuit based on the number of customers with AFN and NRCI customers on the circuit.
Reliability	SCE assumes 24 hours without power per customer on each circuit in scope due to wildfire. This duration was used to maintain consistency with Technosylva 24-hour fire propagation simulation, as well as the PSPS impact duration.	SCE estimates the total customer minutes interrupted (CMI) due to proactive de-energization on a circuit. It is the product of the number of customers on a circuit and the total number of minutes of estimated interruption. SCE assumes 1,440 CMI per customer (24 hours x 60 minutes) to represent de-energization over a 24-hour period.
Financial	SCE calculates the financial impact of wildfire by assigning a dollar value to the buildings and acres within the fire shed potentially threatened by wildfire. For buildings, SCE uses a system average replacement value assumption. For acres, SCE uses assumed costs of suppression and restoration.[10]	SCE conservatively assumes $250[11] per customer, per de-energization event to quantify potential financial losses for the purpose of comparing PSPS risk to wildfire risk. The figure represents potential customer losses, such as lost revenue/income, food spoilage, cost of alternative accommodations, and equipment/property damage. This value is based on a Value of Lost Load (VoLL), which is a widely accepted industry methodology to estimate a customer's willingness to accept compensation for service interruption. VoLL is dependent on many factors, including the type of customer, the duration of the outage, the time of year, the number of interruptions a customer has experienced. SCE's VoLL estimate is consistent with academic and internal studies to estimate VoLL for a single-family residential customer for a 24-hour period.

[9] See, e.g., Anderson, G.B., Bell, M.B (2012). Lights Out: Impact of the August 2003 Power Outage on Mortality in New York, NY, Epidemiology 23(2) 189-193. doi: 10.1097/EDE.0b013e318245c61c.

[10] Suppression costs are based on a five-year average of California's reported wildfire suppression costs from 2016-2020. Restoration costs are assumed to be $1,227/acre based on research papers published by the Bureau of Land Management.

[11] SCE utilizes $250 per customer, per de-energization event to approximate potential financial losses on average, recognizing that some customers may experience no financial impact, while other customers' losses may exceed $250. The $250 value is a conservative assumption used for the limited purpose of estimating the potential financial consequences of PSPS as one of many inputs into SCE's PSPS In-Event Risk Comparison Tool. It is not an acknowledgment that any given customer has or will incur losses in this amount, and SCE reserves the right to argue otherwise in litigation and other claim resolution contexts, as well as in CPUC regulatory proceedings.

The resulting natural unit consequences for PSPS and wildfire risk are converted to unit-less risk scores one for PSPS risks and one for wildfire risks[12] using SCE Multi-Attribute Risk Score (MARS) framework.

The use of a unit-less risk score allows SCE to compare the resulting risk scores to each other by dividing the wildfire risk score (i.e., the potential benefit of PSPS) by the PSPS risk score (i.e., the potential public harm of PSPS). The calculation results in an easily interpretable benefit/risk ratio for each circuit in scope.

If the resulting ratio is equal to 1, wildfire and PSPS risk are equal to one another. If the ratio is greater than one, wildfire risk exceeds PSPS risk (the higher the resulting number, the more the wildfire risk outweighs the PSPS risk). If the ratio is less than 1, PSPS risk outweighs the wildfire risk.

Additional information is provided in Section 12. Within the data, SCE displays circuit-specific inputs—including the number of customers on a circuit, AFN/NRCI multiplier, number of acres and buildings potentially threatened all of which are used to calculate the PSPS and wildfire risk scores (shown in columns titled "PSPS Risk" and "Wildfire Risk") These risk scores are then compared in the last column (highlighted in yellow) titled "FireRisk Output Ratio," which shows the ratios of wildfire risk (corresponding to potential benefit of PSPS) to PSPS risk (corresponding to potential public harm from PSPS) for each circuit in scope. All ratios in the "FireRisk Output Ratio" column for are greater than 1, meaning that the wildfire risk exceeded PSPS risk for all circuits in scope. These results were presented to the Incident Commanders in advance of de-energization to inform PSPS decision-making.

For this de-energization event, the results of the PSPS Risk vs. Benefit Comparison Tool supported SCE's decision to de-energize, indicating that all circuits de-energized during this event de-energization during this event had a PSPS benefit/risk ratio greater than one (1). Thus, the estimated benefit of PSPS outweighed the estimated risk of PSPS for this event.

[12]MARS is SCE's version of Multi-Attribute Value Function (MAVF). The MAVF was developed as part of the Safety Model Assessment (S-MAP) proceeding and is used in the utilities' 2018 Risk Assessment Mitigation Phase (RAMP) Report (I.18-11006, pp. 1-28) filings to compare risks and mitigation alternatives. SCE has improved its MARS framework since first developing it for the 2018 RAMP. SCE MARS 2.0 attributes, units, weights, ranges, and scales are shown below, and are further described in SCE's 2022 RAMP report. See A.21-05-13, Chapter 2 – Risk Model and RSE Methodology.

5. Explanation of alternatives considered and evaluation of each alternative. (D.19-05-042 Appendix A, page A22.)

SCE deploys a suite of wildfire mitigation measures aimed at reducing the probability of ignitions associated with electrical infrastructure in high fire risk areas without resorting to PSPS. These activities include grid hardening measures such as installation of covered conductor, repair, or replacement of equipment on poles (e.g., crossarms, transformers), and installation of protective devices (e.g., fast acting fuses and relay settings).[13] In addition, SCE has implemented operational practices including enhanced inspections, vegetation management, and fire climate zone operating restrictions[14] in high fire risk areas. Certain protective measures such as fast curve settings and fire climate zone operating restrictions are applied to a majority of high fire risk circuits and are typically in effect for the duration of the fire season; others such as covered conductor are permanent and in place year-round. SCE's PSPS wind speed thresholds account for circuits or isolatable circuit segments that are fully hardened with covered conductor, thereby potentially limiting the duration and number of customers affected by PSPS during fire weather events. However, during severe fire weather conditions (dry and windy), there is a heightened risk of ignitions primarily due to wind-driven foreign objects or airborne vegetation coming into contact with SCE's equipment. Under these circumstances, the deployment of the above-described less disruptive measures may not sufficiently mitigate wildfire and public safety risk, and PSPS is necessary as a last resort mitigation measure to prevent ignitions that may lead to significant wildfires.

Leading up to and during a PSPS event, SCE uses real-time weather station data and, if available, information from field observers on the ground for enhanced situational awareness to forecast and monitor prevailing environmental conditions (e.g., wind gusts) that can lead to potential damage from airborne vegetation or flying debris, to inform de-energization decisions. For circuits that are in scope, SCE also conducts pre-patrols and visually inspects the entire length of each circuit or circuit segment to identify any imminent hazards or equipment vulnerabilities that require immediate remediation and provide additional up-to-date intelligence on field conditions. If such concerns are discovered on a circuit in scope, they are addressed before the impending wind event, if possible.

SCE makes every effort to limit the scope, duration, and impact of PSPS for as many customers as possible. This includes adjusting wind speed thresholds higher for circuits or segments that have covered conductor installed and leveraging sectionalization equipment to switch some customers to adjacent circuits not impacted by PSPS or otherwise remove them from scope. Starting with the initial weather (wind and relative humidity) and fuel moisture forecasts for the POC, SCE evaluates its current system configurations for downstream circuits, i.e., circuits [13]Fast curve settings reduce fault energy release by increasing the speed with which a protective relay reacts to most fault currents. Fast curve settings can reduce heating, arcing, and sparking for many faults compared to conventional protection equipment settings. More details are in SCE's 2023-2025 Wildfire Mitigation Plan Update, initiative SH-6.

[14]SCE's System Operating Bulletin No. 322 includes provisions for enabling fast curve settings on distribution line reclosers and circuit breakers, recloser blocking, line patrols and requirements for personnel to be physically present when operating air-break switching devices.

receiving power from another circuit that is forecast to exceed de-energization thresholds. SCE seeks to identify any circuit segment or subset of customers that could safely be transferred from a circuit that is expected to exceed thresholds to another adjacent circuit that is not. See Section 10: Mitigation to Reduce Impact for additional details.

Based on weather forecast data, fire weather modeling information, and results of the PSPS Risk vs. Benefit Comparison Tool, SCE determined that the above-described precautionary measures alone would not sufficiently reduce the risk to public safety, and PSPS was necessary for some of the circuits and customers in scope.

Section 3. De-energized Time, Place, Duration and Customers

This section must include, at a minimum:

Section 4. Damage and Hazards to Overhead Facilities

1. Description of all found wind-related damages or hazards to the utility's overhead facilities in the areas where power was shut off. (Resolution ESRB-8, page 3, SED Additional Information.)

[15]Table SCE-03 reflects de-energization and re-energization data at the circuit and circuit segment level, including each de-energization and re-energization occurrence for circuits that were de-energized and re-energized multiple times during the event.
[16]SCE understands "All Clear" declaration date/time for each circuit in scope to refer to: (1) approval by the Incident Commander to begin patrols and restoration of power for any de-energized circuit or circuit segment, or (2) a final decision to remove a circuit or circuit segment from scope after the POC is over for that circuit or segment on the monitored circuit list that was not de-energized during the PSPS event.
[17]Whenever possible, SCE employs circuit-switching operations and/or sectionalization devices to minimize the number of customers in scope for proactive de-energization. As a result, some customers on a circuit in scope may briefly lose power while SCE switches them to an energized adjacent circuit or when SCE uses sectionalization devices to isolate portions of a circuit that can remain safely energized from de-energized segments of that same circuit or an adjacent circuit. The reported count of "total customers de-energized" does not include customers who experience a brief (60 minutes or less) power interruption during such switching and/or sectionalization operations, but who are not otherwise impacted by the proactive de-energization.
[18]SCE maintains extensive data on customer populations that are included in the AFN definition referenced in CPUC decisions, with a focus on identifying customers with AFN particularly vulnerable during PSPS events. In addition to customers with AFN who have self-certified as sensitive (not enrolled in the MBL program), SCE identifies and tracks for PSPS reporting purposes the following categories of "AFN other than MBL customers": senior citizens (65 and older), hearing-impaired, vision-impaired (communications provided in large font or Braille), income-qualified (enrolled in CARE or FERA), and non-English speakers. SCE also reports on impacted customers that provide shelter to the homeless population, as these entities are included among critical facilities and infrastructure.
[19]The sum of (i) residential customers de-energized, (ii) commercial/industrial customers de-energized, and (iii) other customers equals the total number of customers de-energized per outage incident for this event. The count of "Residential Customers De-energized" includes sub-categories of" "Medical Baseline customers De-energized" and "AFN other than MBL customers De-energized."

Instances of wind-related damages and potential hazards to distribution circuit structures and associated line hardware were found during restoration patrols for this event, as detailed in Table 3.

2. A table (see Table 3) showing circuit name and structure identifier (if applicable) for each damage or hazard, county that each damage or hazard is located in, whether the damage or hazard is in a High Fire-Threat District (HFTD) or non-HFTD, Type of damage/hazard of damage.[20] (SED Additional Information.)

Table 3: Damages and Hazards (Refer to Attachment C.)

3. The consolidated zipped geodatabase file from Section 3.2 must include the PSPS event damage and hazard points, if applicable. The file should include fields that are in Table 3. (SED Additional Information.)

A zipped geodatabase file that provides all information in Section 3.3 is included with this filing.

4. A PDF map (see example below) identifying the location of each damage or hazard. (SED Additional Information.)

Map of Damages and Hazards Found within the PSPS Footprint.

[20]Hazards are conditions discovered during restoration patrolling or operations that might have caused damages or posed an electrical arcing or ignition risk had PSPS not been executed.

Section 5. Notifications

This section must include, at a minimum:

1. A description of the notice to California Independent System Operator (as needed), public safety partners, local/tribal governments, paratransit agencies that may serve all the known transit- or paratransit-dependent persons that may need access to a community resource center, multi-family building account holders/building managers in the AFN community[21], and all customers, including the means by which utilities provide notice to customers of the locations/hours/services available for CRCs, and where to access electricity during the hours the CRC is closed. (Resolution ESRB-8, page 3 D19-05-042, page A26, D21-06-034, Appendix A, page A2, A9-A10, SED Additional Information.)

   SCE includes paratransit agencies that may be de-energized in its PSPS notifications and classifies these agencies overall as critical facilities and infrastructure to ensure they receive priority notifications. All multi-family building SCE account holders receive customer notifications, and we encourage non-account holders, behind a master meter, to enroll in address level alerts. In its customer notification, SCE directs potentially impacted customers to www.sce.com/psps for information related to the location, hours, and services available at Community Resource Centers. Instructions on where customers can access electricity during the hours the centers are closed have been made available on the SCE website. Please see the table below for a description of the types of notices provided during this de-energization event.

[21]SCE generally notifies multi-family building account holders along with other customers of record in scope for a potential de-energization. SCE does not currently have a way to identify which multi-family building account holders have residents in their buildings who may be members of the AFN community. SCE conducts PSPS-related outreach via flyers and trade publications to increase awareness of PSPS among building/property managers who are not account holders. SCE also instituted an address-level alert program, which allows non-SCE account holders (such as building/property managers) to sign up for PSPS alerts for specific addresses.

[22]SCE makes every effort to adhere to the notification timelines required by the CPUC. However, notifications may be delayed in some circumstances. Please see Table 5 for more information specific to this event.

2. Notification timeline including prior to de-energization or Period of Concern (if no de-energization), initiation, restoration and cancellation, if applicable, for each circuit or circuit segment. The timeline should include the required minimum timeline and approximate time notifications were sent for each de-energization if a circuit was de-energized multiple times. (D.19-05-042, Appendix A, page A8-A9, D.21-06-034, page A11)

Throughout the PSPS event, SCE made significant effort to notify public safety partners, local/tribal governments, critical facilities and infrastructure, and customers in accordance with the minimum timelines set forth by the CPUC weather and other factors permitting.

Section 12 contains additional information. The data describes the notifications SCE sent for this event, including approximate time notifications were sent to local/tribal governments, public safety partners, critical facilities and infrastructure, and other customers prior to potential de-energization and after the decision to cancel the de-energization or remove from scope. The Notification Timeline for the PG&E customers are included in Section 12.

3. For those customers where positive or affirmative notification was attempted, use the following template (Table 4) to report the accounting of the customers (which tariff and/or access and functional needs population designation), the number of notification attempts made, the timing of attempts, who made the notification attempt (utility or public safety partner) and the number of customers for whom positive notification was achieved. (D.19-05-042, Appendix A, page A23, SED Additional Information.)

Table 4: Positive Notification[23]

Positive Notification
Designation	Total Number of Customers	Number of Notification Attempts Made	Timing of Attempts	Who made the notification	Successful Positive Notification
Medical Baseline (MBL) in scope	9781	11848	DAILY	SCE	9774
Self-Certified	1555	1958	DAILY	SCE	1550

Emergent weather conditions were the primary cause of notification exceptions, accounting for exceptions, or approximately 0.106% of the total, for Medical Baseline and Self-Certified customers. No supplemental follow-up actions were performed for the affected customers.

4. A copy or scripts of all notifications with a list of all languages that each type of notification was provided in, the timing of notifications, the methods of notifications and who made the notifications (the utility or local public safety partners). (D.19-05-042, Appendix A, page A23, SED Additional Information.)

Scripts of all notifications that SCE sends are attached hereto in Attachment A: Public Safety Partner/Customer Notification Scripts. "SCE performs primary customer notifications for customers it meters and bills and encourages public safety partners to amplify PSPS messages on their platforms as appropriate. SCE offers all notifications in the following languages: English, Spanish, Cantonese, Mandarin, Vietnamese, Tagalog, and Korean, Khmer, Armenian, Farsi, Arabic, Japanese, Russian, Punjabi, Thai, Hmong, Portuguese, Hindi, French, German, Mixteco (indigenous spoken only), Zapoteco (indigenous spoken only), and Purapecha (indigenous spoken only).

[23]The "Total Number of Customers" metric reflects the total number of MBL and Self-Certified customers in scope for the PSPS event. The "Notification Attempts" metric reflects the count of MBL and Self-Certified customers both in scope and de-energized – whom SCE attempted to notify prior to de-energization. Notification attempts include automated notification, secondary verification by AFN Supervisors and escalated contact attempts, up to and including door rings, if necessary, to confirm successful delivery of notifications to Medical Baseline and Self-Certified customers.
The "Successful Positive Notification" metric reflects the number of unique MBL and Self-Certified customers both in scope and de-energized who were successfully notified of the PSPS event prior to de-energization or anticipated de-energization. The percentage of notification exceptions reflects the number of missed positive notifications/total number of MBL and Self-Certified customers in scope for the PSPS event.

5. If the utility fails to provide notifications according to the minimumtimelines set forth in D.19-05-042 and D.21-06-034, using the following template (Table 5) to report a breakdown of the notification failure and an explanation of what caused the failure. This applies to both de-energization and non-de-energization events. For non-de-energization event, the starting time of the first Period of Concern is the anticipated de-energization time to assess notification failure. If a circuit is de-energized multiple times during an event, the utility must include notification failures for the multiple de-energizations. The explanation must be specific. (D.21-06-014 page 286, SED Additional Information.)

Throughout the PSPS event, SCE made significant efforts to notify public safety partners, local/tribal governments, critical facilities and infrastructure, and customers in accordance with the minimum timelines set forth by the CPUC in PSPS Phase 1 Guidelines (D.19-05-042), weather and other factors permitting. Any missed notifications during the event are included in the following table.

Breakdown of Notification Failures
Notifications sent to	Notification Failure Description	Number of Entities or Customer Accounts	Explanation
Public Safety Partners excluding Critical Facilities and Infrastructure	Entities who did not receive 48–72-hour advance notification.	0	N/A
	Entities who did not receive 1–4-hour imminent notification. [24]	0	N/A
	Entities who did not receive any notifications before de-energization.	0	N/A
	Entities who were not notified immediately before re-energization.	0	N/A
	Entities who did not receive cancellation notification within two hours of the decision to cancel.	0	N/A [24]Missed expected shutoff notification is defined as failure to send the notification to an affected customer "1-4 hours in advance of anticipated time of de-energization, if possible" (D.19-05-042, Appendix A, p. A8 and n.5). SCE anticipates that de-energization may occur about four hours from when the Incident Commander determines, based on real-time weather data, that de-energization is likely, and the PSPS operations team authorizes the notification campaign based on this. Because the actual time of de-energization is driven by real-time weather observations that cannot be predicted with certainty, SCE measures notification performance against the actual time of de-energization using a 0–6-hour window around the 1–4-hour target. The Commission has acknowledged this limitation, stating "that it may not be possible at this juncture to know exactly when a de-energization will occur and to provide this level of advanced notification" and urges the utilities to "strive to communicate that de-energization is imminent" (D.19-05-042, Appendix A, p. A8 n. 5). SCE therefore reports as missed expected shutoff notifications those that are (i) not sent at all, or (ii) not sent within 0-6 hours of the actual time of de-energization.

During the PSPS event that began on October 7, 2026, and concluded on October 18, 2026, SCE executed 4,699 notification campaigns and issued 14,332,432 notifications to Customers, Public Safety Partners, and Critical Facilities and Infrastructure Customers. SCE identified 146,810 notification exceptions, approximately 1.02% of all notifications, consisting of notifications that were either not sent or were delivered outside the applicable notification timeframe.

Emergent weather conditions were the primary cause of notification exceptions, accounting for 122,040 exceptions, or approximately 83.13% of the total. Of these, 58,707 notifications were not issued prior to the event because emergent weather conditions caused the intended recipients to come into scope within a POC. The remaining 63,333 notifications were successfully delivered, but outside the applicable notification timeframe. Missing or inaccurate customer contact information accounted for 3,331 notification exceptions, or approximately 2.27% of the total. Customer move-in and move-out (MIMO) activity accounted for 242 missed notifications, or approximately 0.16% of the total. System, People, and Process factors accounted for 21,197 missed notifications, or approximately 14.44% of the total. These exceptions were associated with a combination of system processing complexities, notification timing, and operational communications challenges. SCE continues to evaluate and implement improvements to event scope management, notification execution processes, and the quality of customer contact information to support the timely and reliable delivery of notifications during future PSPS events.

Information related to PG&E Customers is included in Section 12.

6. Explain how the utility will correct the notification failures. (D.21-06- 014, page 286.)

Please see the explanations above in Section 5 for a description of how SCE will correct the notification failures.

7. Enumerate and explain the cause of any false communications citing the sources of changing data. Describe the situations at-issue, which involve the level of perceived defect in notice, in specific detail. (D.20-05-051, Appendix A, page 4.)

Missed/Insufficient Notification:
Please see Table 5 and sub-section 6 above for information on missed or insufficient notifications during this event.

Incorrect Notification:
N/A

Cancellation Notification:
SCE sent cancellation notices to 184,533 customers that were notified of potential de-energization but not ultimately de-energized during this event. SCE notifies customers on circuits in scope for potential de-energization ahead of the POC based on its assessment of the likelihood that winds will exceed PSPS thresholds. De-energization was not necessary for these customers because forecast fire weather conditions did not materialize in those areas, and the customers were notified of the cancellation after being removed from scope.

Section 6. Local and State Public Safety Partner Engagement

This section must include, at minimum:

1. Use the following table (Table 6) to List the organization names of public safety partners including, but notlimited to, local governments, tribal representatives, first responders and emergency management , and critical facilities and infrastructure the utility contacted in anticipation to de-energization or Period of Concern, the date and time on which they were contacted, and whether the areas affectedby the de-energization are classified as Zone 1, Tier 2, or Tier 3 as per the definition in CPUC General Order 95, Rule 21.2-D. (Resolution ESRB-8, page 5, SED Additional Information.)

Please see Table 6: Public Safety Partners Contacted in Attachment C: PSPS Event Data Workbook for a list of local public safety partners that received notifications related to this event.

2. List the names of all entities invited to the utility's Emergency Operations Center for a PSPS event, the method used to make this invitation, and whether a different form of communication was preferred by any entity invited to the utility's emergency operation center. (D.21-06-014, page 289.)

SCE extends a daily invitation for agency representatives to its Emergency Operations Center (currently virtual only) during agency coordination calls with public safety partners and critical infrastructure providers, as applicable during PSPS events. SCE also shares daily situational reports from these calls with all impacted public safety partners and critical infrastructure providers that includes contact information for requesting/receiving an agency representative to the Emergency Operations Center. No entities invited to the virtual Emergency Operations Center preferred a different form of communication during this event.

Please see Section 12 for a list of agencies invited to the daily coordination calls.

3. A statement verifying the availability to public safety partners of accurate and timely geospatial information, and real time updates to the GIS shapefiles in preparation for an imminent PSPS event and during a PSPS event. In addition, list any accuracy or timeliness issues in making available the GIS shapefiles to public safety partners during the PSPS event from activation to full restoration. (D.21-06-014, page 289.)

After the EOC was activated, SCE provided geospatial information updates to the SCE Representational State Transfer Service (REST) for public safety partners before and during the PSPS event. SCE also made this information available to customers at www.sce.com/psps and provided this information to public safety partners on its Public Safety Partner Portal (Portal). Updates generally reflected system processing within approximately 5–10 minutes of the underlying decision or action.

4. A description and evaluation of engagement with local and state publicsafety partners in providing advanced outreach and notification duringthe PSPS event. (D.19-05-042, Appendix, page A23.)

SCE submitted the CalOES Notification form via the State Dashboard beginning on October 7, 2026, at 3:46 p.m. SCE conducted daily operational briefings and/or sent the external briefing deck with State and local public safety partners, as well as critical infrastructure entities, for the duration of this PSPS event to provide critical incident updates and a forum for resolving issues. See Table 6: Public Safety Partners Contacted in Attachment C: PSPS Event Data Workbook details a list of local public safety partners that received notifications related to this event.

Impacted State and County emergency management agencies and critical infrastructure customers are polled at the close of each event to provide feedback; seven partners responded to this survey. Of the seven respondents, one rated the engagement as poor, two rated the engagement as fair, one rated the engagement as average, two rated the engagement as good, and the other as excellent.

5. Specific engagement with local communities regarding the notificationand support provided to the AFN community. (D.20-05-051, Appendix A, page 8, SED Additional Information.)

SCE provided notification of this PSPS event to the 211 California Network, Regional Centers, and Independent Living Centers that serve their respective counties. SCE contacted Community-Based Organizations (CBOs) to alert them of potential PSPS outages in the areas that they serve. SCE also provided 24-hour contact information to these agencies if they needed to escalate any unidentified community issues. In partnership with the CBOs in each area of concern, SCE offered services to customers such as transportation, food support, and temporary accommodations.

6. Provide the following information on backup power (including mobile backup power) with the name and email address of a utility contact for customers for each of the following topics: (D.21-06-014, page 300.)

a. Description of the backup generators available for critical facility and infrastructure customers before and during the PSPS.

SCE maintains 10 mobile generators for use by critical facilities and infrastructure customers during PSPS events, as needed. SCE has contracts with vendors to lease additional units during emergency events when the need arises for critical care customers. SCE pre-staged a backup generator at Round Valley Elementary School in Mono County in May 2026 in preparation for the PSPS season. The BIRCHIM circuit was not de-energized during this event; therefore, the backup generator was not needed.

b. The capacity and estimated maximum duration of operation of the backup generators available for critical facility and infrastructure customers before and during the PSPS.

The generators SCE maintains for PSPS events are rated at 25-100 KW and have an estimated maximum duration of operation of 24-36 hours with a continuous fuel plan to ensure there is no interruption of power while the generators are deployed for usage.

c. The total number of backup generators provided to critical facility and infrastructure customer's site immediately before and during the PSPS.

SCE deployed a total of six generators during the event to five Resilience Zones and one Resilient Community Resource Center (CRC). One went to the Bridgeport General Store, a resiliency zone (RZ) in Mono County. SCE also deployed one generator to each of the following RZs: in Los Angeles County, the Agua Dulce Hardware, Sweetwater Bar & Grill, and Bullwinkel's Gifts/Antiques; the Well Water for Hardware, Bar & Grill, Gifts; and the Peppertree Market & Gas Station; and in Kern County, the Chevron Gas Station & General Store. SCE also deployed a backup generator to the Acton Community Center, a resilient CRC.

d. How the utility deployed this backup generation to the critical facility and infrastructure customer's site.

SCE has a contract with United Rentals to deploy generators to RZs and Resilient Community Resource Centers (CRC) in SCE's service area. United Rentals deployed the generator and staged it at the RZ and SCE district personnel were on standby in the event the circuit required de-energization. In the event of de-energization, the district qualified electrical worker (QEW) team would connect the generator to the bypass switch on the facility, turn on the generator, and switch the bypass switch to power the facility off the deployed generator.

e. An explanation of how the utility prioritized how to distribute available backup generation.

SCE deployed generators based on when each facility came into scope for the event. Because United Rentals had 10 generators on standby, there was sufficient capacity to support every in-scope facility, and SCE did not need to prioritize deployment.

f. Identify the critical facility and infrastructure customers that received backup generation.

- Bridgeport General Store, 242 Main Street, Bridgeport, CA 93517 which is an RZ in Mono County.
- Agua Dulce Hardware Sweetwater Bar & Grill Bullwinkel's Gifts/Antiques, 33310-33314 Agua Dulce Canyon Road Santa Clarita, CA 91390 which is an RZ in Los Angeles County.
- Well Water for Hardware, Bar & Grill, Gifts, 3246 Agua Dulce Road Santa Clarita, CA 91390 which is an RZ in Los Angeles County.
- Peppertree Market & Gas Station, 9661 Sierra Hwy, Santa Clarita, CA 91390 which is an RZ in Los Angeles County.
- Acton Community Club (Center), 3748 Nickels Ave., Acton, CA 93510 which is a Resilient CRC in Los Angeles County.
- Chevron Gas Station & General Store 27750 Stallion Springs Dr., Tehachapi, CA 93561 which is an RZ in Kern County.

Section 7.Complaints & Claims

1. This section must include, at minimum: the number and nature of complaints received as the result of the de-energization event and claims that are filed against the utility because of de-energization. The utility must completely report all the informal and formal complaints, meaning any expression of grief, pain, or dissatisfaction, from various sources, filed either with CPUC or receivedby the utility as a result of the PSPS event. (Resolution ESRB-8, page 5, D.21-06- 014, page 304.)

There were 3311 reported complaints, and 319 claims associated with this PSPS event. SCE will include any complaints or claims related to this PSPS event received after the filing date of this report in its annual post-season report.

Please refer to Section 12 for additional information.

Section 8. Power Restoration Timeline

This section must include, at minimum:

1. A detailed explanation of the steps the utility took to restore power (Resolution ESRB-8 page 5.)

[27]Although there is no designated contact person for questions, the e-mail inbox is monitored by SCE's Customer Service Organization.

SCE began the re-energization process after fire weather conditions subsided, there was no further threat of fire weather forecasted for the areas of concern, and the Incident Commander approved restoration operations. All circuit restoration during this event was guided by safety considerations, including safety risks associated with patrolling certain circuits at night.

Please see Section 3 prompt 3 for details related to customer re-energizations, including restoration date, restoration time, and total customer count by circuit.

Re-energization on these circuits occurred after the authorization to patrol and restore was declared by the Incident Commander. The Incident Commander made the decision to restore these customers based on a recommendation from Operations and input from Weather Services due to the observed improvement in weather conditions.

2. The timeline for power restoration, broken down by phase if applicable (D.19-05-042, Appendix A, page A24, SED Additional Information.)

   Please see Section 3 prompt 3 for details related to customer re-energizations, including restoration date, restoration time, and total customer count by circuit.

   Re-energization on these circuits occurred after the authorization to patrol and restore was declared by the Incident Commander. The Incident Commander made the decision to restore s based on a recommendation from Operations and input from Weather Services due to the observed improvement in weather conditions.

3. For any circuits that require more than 24 hours to restore, the utility shall use the following template (Table 7) to explain why it was unable to restore each circuit within this timeframe, using the format below. (D.20-05-051, Appendix A, page 6.)

2. Any deviations and explanations from the CRC requirement including operation hours, ADA accessibility, and equipment. (SED Additional Information.)

For this event, SCE deployed staff to provide community assistance to a total of 22 locations in Inyo, Kern, Los Angeles, Mono, Santa Barbara, Tulare, and Ventura Counties. The hours of operations of SCE customer support sites sometimes deviate from the CRC normal hours of operations of 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. during PSPS events to either follow the POC more closely and provide customer support to best meet the needs of the community or when circuits have been re-energized and customer support is no longer required. [28]

The first POC of this event started on October 9, 2026, and concluded on October 10, 2026. SCE established one CRC in Inyo County and two in Mono County to support residential customers impacted by this event. All three CRCs were closed on October 10, 2026, as the POC had concluded and no residential customers were de-energized, eliminating the need to reopen the customer supporting sites on October 11, 2026.

[28]See Appendix 5 in D.20-05-051, "Each electric investor-owned utility, through collaboration with relevant stakeholders in its service territory, shall finalize a community resource center (CRC) plan, 60 days after issuance of the Phase 2 final decision, based on local demographic data for meeting a variety of safety needs for access and functional needs and vulnerable populations."

The second POC of this event started on October 14, 2026, and concluded on October 17, 2026. SCE activated 19 CRCs for this POC; 16 of the 19 customer support sites were demobilized by 10:00 p.m. on October 17, 2026, and three were demobilized at 11:00 a.m. on October 18, 2026, after all circuits were re-energized and customer load restored.

In Kern County, SCE mobilized three customer support sites; two in Tehachapi and one in Wofford Heights which also served customers under consideration for PSPS in Tulare County. All three CRCs in Kern County were closed by 8:30 p.m. on October 17, 2026, after the POC for the circuits driving the site selection had concluded, all customer load was restored, and customer support was no longer needed.

SCE activated 10 CRCs in Los Angeles County with two of those CRCs in the city of Calabasas. SCE Customer Outreach Specialists (COS) supported customers at the Calabasas Community Center on October 14, 2026, and October 15, 2026. The Community Center was not available for use as a CRC after October 15, 2026; COS staff were relocated to the Calabasas Civic Center on October 16, 2026, where they continued to support customers impacted by PSPS until 8:00 p.m. that day and until 5:30 p.m. on October 17, 2026. These two CRC sites are government facilities and the hours of operations for the CRCs were aligned with the facilities' availability to support customers impacted by PSPS. SCE also supported customers in the communities of Acton, Agua Dulce, Altadena, Avalon, Lake Hughes, Malibu, San Fernando, and Valencia. The Altadena Community Center was only available for two days, October 15, 2026, and October 16, 2026. SCE COSs staffed the site from 3:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. on October 15, 2026, and from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. on October 16, 2026. Las Palmas Park Community Center CRC remained open until 5:30 p.m. on October 17, 2026, and served customers in multiple communities including Altadena. Five of the 10 CRCs in Los Angeles County were demobilized on October 17, 2026, after the POC for the circuits driving site selection had ended and all customer load was restored. The CRC site in Avalon closed at 1:30 p.m.; the CRC in San Fernando closed at 5:30 p.m.; the CRC in Malibu closed at 8:00 p.m.; the CRC in Acton closed and 9:30 p.m. and the CRC in Valencia closed at 10:00 p.m. The Agua Dulce Women's Club was the last customer support site in Los Angeles County to close; SCE demobilized this site at 10:00 a.m. on October 18, 2026, after all customer load in Los Angeles County was restored and customer support was no longer necessary.

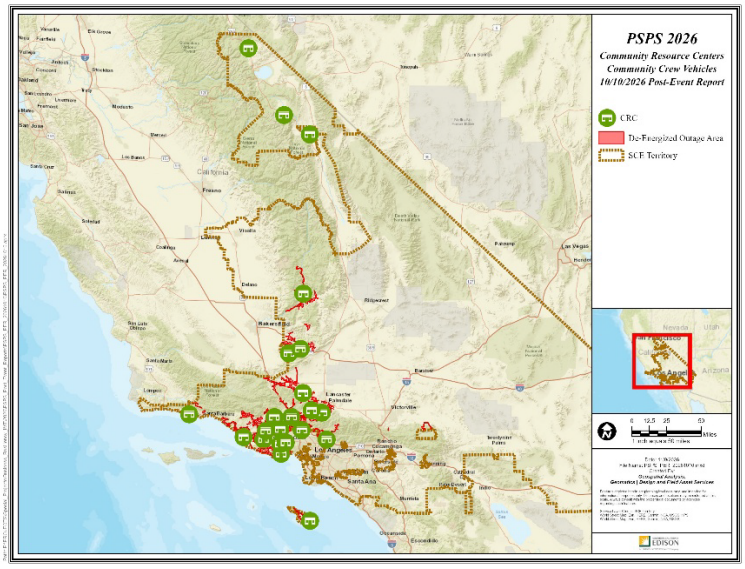

SCE deployed customer support staff to one CRC site in Santa Barbara. This customer support site was opened from October 14, 2026, to October 17, 2026. The site was demobilized at 1:30 p.m. on October 17, 2026, after the POC for the circuits driving site selection had concluded and all customer load was restored; customer support was no longer needed at this time.

SCE established five customer support sites in Ventura County in the cities of Piru, Moorpark, Newbury Park, Oxnard, and Simi Valley. SCE demobilized the CRC at the Oxnard Mail Library at 10:00 p.m. on October 16, 2026; the number of customer visits to this site was three by midday on October 16, 2026, so SCE demobilized the site and drove traffic to the CRC at the Newbury Park Library which remained open until 9:30 p.m. on October 17, 2026, after the POC had passed and all customer load to impacted communities was restored. The CRC at the Simi Valley Senior Center was also demobilized on October 17, 2026; the site remained open until 10:00 p.m. and did not reopen on October 18, 2026, because all customer load was restored and customer support was no longer necessary. The CRC sites in Piru and Moorpark closed on October 18, 2026, at 11:00 a.m. after circuits were re-energized and all customer load was restored concluding the event.

Fresno and Madera Counties were also in scope for this event. The circuits were added to the event scope during the evening weather run on October 14, 2026, and had a POC from 0000 hours on October 16, 2026, to 12:00 p.m. on October 16, 2026; the POC was subsequently extended to 9:00 p.m. SCE does not have a CRC in the area under consideration for PSPS, which was located in the Sierra National Forest near Shaver Lake. The logistics of identifying a site, customer support resources and delivery of supplies was a challenge given the POC start date. The SCE Customer Care Supervisor Team and Liaison Office reviewed options and decided not to deploy resources given the limited POC and proximity of impacted customers (10 residential customers) to the community of Shaver Lake.

3. A map identifying the location of each CRC and the de-energized areas. (SED Additional Information.)

Section 10. Mitigations to Reduce Impact

This section must include, at minimum:

1. A description of how sectionalization, i.e. separating loads within a circuit, was considered and implemented and the extent to which it impacted the size and scope of the de-energization event (D.19-05-042, page A23)

Prior to the POC, SCE used circuit playbooks to identify circuit switching that could reduce the number of customers in scope for potential de-energization. SCE transferred over 11,600 customers from circuits on the monitored circuit list to adjacent circuits not in scope pursuant to the then-current forecast, thereby maintaining service to these customers throughout the event.

2. Mitigation actions and impacts (both waterfall graph and map) including: sectionalization devices, temporary generation, microgrids, permanent backup generation, transmission switching, covered conductor, and any other grid hardening that mitigated the impact of the event. (D.21-06-014, page 285, SED Additional Information.)

   The replacement of bare wire with covered conductor allowed SCE to raise de-energization wind speed thresholds and thus reduced potential de-energization impacts to customers on portions of 33 circuits.

   With the above-discussed mitigations in place, SCE was able to limit de-energization to 147,305 customers.

   The waterfall graphs and maps below illustrate the impacts of SCE's mitigation measures over the course of the PSPS event where circuit switching, covered conductor, and/or sectionalization devices were successfully deployed to limit the scope of potential or actual de-energization.[29]

[29] "Circuits Did Not Meet PSPS Criteria" in the waterfall graph denotes customers on circuits or circuit segments in scope that were not ultimately de-energized. These customers were not switched to adjacent circuits, were not on circuits segments with covered conductor, and did not require the use of sectionalization devices.

Section 11. Lessons Learned from this Event

1. Threshold analysis and the results of the utility's examination of whether its thresholds are adequate and correctly applied in the de-energized areas. The utility must include specific information pertaining to the event. (D.21-06-014, pages 305-306.)

   This PSPS event was large in size, with dangerous fire weather conditions due to a trough of low-pressure diving south from the Pacific Northwest, bringing gusty onshore winds to the Eastern Sierra and Southern California mountain desert-facing slopes in portions of Inyo, Los Angeles, Mono, and San Bernardino Counties. There were additional fire weather concerns due to strong Santa Ana Winds for Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and Ventura Counties, which extended the initial POC, for this multi-phase PSPS event. As the event progressed, additional fire weather concerns were identified for Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Madera, Santa Barbara, Tulare, Ventura Counties, and portions of Mono County, resulting in multiple extensions of the POC.

   The National Weather Service (NWS) also issued Red Flag and High Wind Warnings for portions of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Mono, Santa Barbara, Tuolumne, and Ventura Counties during portions of the POC. Peak wind forecasts included sustained speeds of up to 50 mph and gusts up to 70 mph, with isolated areas of higher gusts up to 100 mph. Peak observed wind speeds within areas of concern were 62 mph sustained and 83 mph gusts during this event.

   Fire spread modeling projected potential fire sizes ranging from 1 to 10-thousand acres with a few areas exceeding 30-thousand-acre potential at the peak of the event.

   In alignment with internal protocols, SCE considered the FBM threshold to be met for any circuit within its designated POC. For circuits outside the POC, the applicable FBM assessment was based on the greater of the Forecasted FBM and Real-Time FBM. This approach was prudent given the presence of very dry fuels and elevated wind conditions.

During post-event review, several circuits were identified where recorded values may not fully reflect the operational basis for de-energization decisions. These instances were reviewed and determined to be associated with circuit-specific operating protocols, system configuration considerations, or timing differences between field conditions and values captured in operational tools.

For the Hi Line circuit, de-energization was performed in accordance with established Catalina Island operating protocols, which incorporate enhanced egress considerations unique to the area.

For the Maguire circuit, the weather values reflected in the operational tool may not fully represent the conditions observed by operators at the time the de-energization decision was made. The circuit exceeded de-energization criteria during event operations, and the de-energization decision was authorized based on those conditions. Subsequent weather data updates resulted in lower values being reflected in the operational tool. Operational decisions were based on continually assessed weather and circuit conditions throughout the event.

For the Casper circuit, values captured in the operational tool were below de-energization criteria and may not reflect conditions at the time the operational decision was made. Due to system configuration, Casper could not be isolated independently and required de-energization of the upstream Vanguard circuit. As Vanguard is a non-HFRA circuit, corresponding de-energization threshold and wind speed values are not reflected in the associated table.

For the Castro circuit, values captured in the operational tool were below de-energization criteria and may not reflect the segment-specific conditions that drove the operational decision. A portion of the circuit met de-energization criteria and was planned to be isolated through field switching operations. Because the required switching could not be completed within established operational timeframes, additional segments of the circuit were de-energized to mitigate wildfire risk. As a result, the values reflected in the associated table may not fully represent the conditions that led to the de-energization decision.

Despite these circuit-specific conditions, the post-event review determined that the PSPS de-energization thresholds were appropriately applied and functioned as intended during this event. The identified variances reflect circuit configuration considerations, operational protocols, or timing differences between field conditions and recorded tool values, rather than deficiencies in the thresholds themselves.

The thresholds used were appropriate for this event and functioned as intended. To further refine the thresholds, SCE gathers data from restoration patrols conducted during every de-energization event and records any evidence of damage to SCE infrastructure identified during de-energization. These data points are incorporated into SCE's machine learning models, which are used to predict the probability of failure for SCE assets. This model, together with fire consequence modeling, serves as a key input to SCE's Wildfire Mitigation Plan.

The probability of failure does not directly affect SCE's PSPS de-energization thresholds. SCE's PSPS de-energization thresholds are determined with the fundamental consideration that a fire in high wind and dry fuel conditions is not an acceptable risk for SCE, our customers, or our communities. Also, failing to find damage during a restoration patrol does not mean that the de-energization did not prevent a fire or that the thresholds were too low; wind-blown debris may result in faults that could be the source of an ignition if the lines were energized, but may not be observable during a restoration patrol if the debris subsequently blew out of the line or environmental conditions had otherwise changed.

Notification timing remains a customer experience challenge.	Approval timelines and POC release timing resulted in customer notifications being sent during overnight hours, generating customer complaints despite compliance with Commission requirements.	SCE provides PSPS notifications to public safety partners at the intervals prescribed by CPUC requirements. SCE will evaluate options to address notification fatigue while ensuring any potential changes remain compliant and meet the needs of the broader public safety partner community.

Section 12. Other Relevant Information

1. This section must include any other relevant information determined by the utility.

SCE has included additional tables to provide the information requested from the CPUC, as follows:

- SCE-01[30] addresses Section 2 Prompt 1.
- SCE-02 addresses Section 2 Prompt 4.

[30]In this table, the term "Wind Speed Activation Thresholds" corresponds to SCE's operational term "Wind Thresholds" and "De-Energization Thresholds" corresponds to SCE's operational term "Wind Trigger." When a circuit is within its designated POC, SCE assumes the FBM threshold has been met and may proceed with de-energization to mitigate risk. Actual sustained and gust wind speeds in Table 2 are recorded at the time the decision was made to begin the de-energization process and do not reflect peak wind and gust speeds observed during the POC, which may be higher.

- SCE-03 addresses Section 3 Prompt 3.
- SCE-04 addresses Section 5 Prompt 2.
- SCE-05 addresses Section 6 Prompt 2.
- SCE-06 addresses the former portion of Section 7 Prompt 1.
- SCE-07 addresses the latter portion of Section 7 Prompt 1.

SCE Emergency Operations Center and IMT are activated. Contact information is provided below.

Message cadence: The SCE Liaison Officer provides a rolling three-day advance warning of potential PSPS events, when possible, and sends update notifications every day. We will also notify you with time-sensitive shutoff and restoration information at the circuit level. Sudden weather changes may impact SCE's ability to provide advanced notice: a shutoff could occur sooner than anticipated.

Spreadsheet content: All circuits currently on the watch list in your county are listed in the attached spreadsheet. As we get closer to the event and the weather forecast becomes more exact, additional circuits could be added or removed from our watch lists. Definitions are on the second tab of the spreadsheet.

Not all circuits on the watch list will have their power shut off. We are working to reduce the number of customers affected and weather patterns might change.

Customers on the affected circuits are being notified if they are within two days of the period of concern, or if there has been a change to their status.

SCE Emergency Operations Center and IMT are activated. Contact information is provided below.

Message cadence: The SCE Liaison Officer provides a rolling three-day advance warning of potential PSPS events, when possible, and sends update notifications every day. We will also notify you with time-sensitive shutoff and restoration information at the circuit level. Sudden weather changes may impact SCE's ability to provide advanced notice: a shutoff could occur sooner than anticipated.

Spreadsheet content: All circuits currently on the watch list in your county are listed in the attached spreadsheet. As we get closer to the event and the weather forecast becomes more exact, additional circuits could be added or removed from our watch lists. Definitions are on the second tab of the spreadsheet.

Not all circuits on the watch list will have their power shut off. We are working to reduce the number of customers affected and weather patterns might change.

Customers on the affected circuits are being notified if they are within two days of the period of concern, or if there has been a change to their status.

Attachment B-Quantitative and Qualitative Factors in PSPS Decision-Making Technical Paper

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE FACTORS FOR PSPS DECISION-MAKING

Revision: June 2026

The severity and frequency of wildfires in California continues to grow, with 15 of the 20 most destructive fires occurring since 2015 and eight of those occurring in this decade alone.[1] In response, SCE has implemented Public Safety Power Shutoffs to reduce the risk of electrical infrastructure igniting a significant wildfire. PSPS is an important "measure of last resort"[2] that is authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission, with the CPUC acknowledging that "proactively de-energizing power lines can save lives."[3]

The quantitative and qualitative factors that inform de-energization decisions for distribution, transmission and sub-transmission circuits are the subject of this technical paper.

PSPS OBJECTIVES

SCE's core objective is to keep the maximum number of customers safely energized, while de-energizing only when and where necessary for community safety. We establish thresholds for dangerous wind speeds, low humidity and dry fuels as the basis of our decision-making. For each event, to protect community safety, these baseline thresholds are refined using information specific to the forecasted weather and to the circuits in scope, including: event size and complexity, environmental factors, circuit health and fire suppression availability.

We reduce customer impacts, when feasible, by de-energizing only when and where necessary, based on real-time weather reporting; isolating those distribution circuits or circuit segments that present significant risk; and, when possible, moving customers between circuits and turning off specific segments while keeping other segments of the same circuit energized. Simultaneously, grid hardening efforts (see box, right) help reduce wildfire risk.

IMPROVING GRID RESILIENCY

We use grid hardening measures to reduce the chance of equipment causing wildfires, while increasing system reliability. These measures help reduce the impact of PSPS events.

Since 2018, SCE has replaced more than 7,800 circuit miles of bare wire with covered conductor in high fire risk areas, with additional miles in progress. Covered conductor significantly reduces the possibility of the power line arcing or sparking from contact with objects, vegetation or other wires.

Additional grid hardening activities since 2018 include the installation of more than 160 sectionalizing devices, more than 7,500 fire-resistant poles and more than 14,200 fast-acting fuses.

More information about our grid hardening activities are in our Wildfire Mitigation Plan. This plan can be found at sce.com/wildfire-safety.

GEOGRAPHY OF PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFFS

Most PSPS events occur on circuits that are located within or adjacent to an SCE High Fire Risk Area (HFRA). These areas generally align with the CPUC High Fire-Threat Districts. Addresses outside HFRA boundaries may experience PSPS if they are adjacent to or downstream from an HFRA circuit or are fed by a circuit that traverses HFRA. In rare circumstances, if we must de-energize at the transmission level, a PSPS event will have a larger footprint.

DECISION-MAKING CADENCE

During times when fire weather conditions, including low humidity and dry vegetation are present, SCE identifies the potential to exceed wind speed thresholds up to seven days prior to a possible period of concern (POC), using twice daily output from four supercomputers. In some cases, weather patterns emerge within seven days of an event, which will shorten the timeline. Rarely, "rogue circuits" will hit de-energization wind speeds without advance forecasting and will need to be de-energized immediately to protect community safety.

Prior to the start of the POC, the PSPS team moves from forecasting to real-time weather monitoring, using SCE's pole-top weather stations, public (third-party) weather stations and data from extendable handheld weather stations operated by SCE field crews. Every 10 minutes, SCE weather station readings are updated for each circuit. The team monitors actual conditions to confirm if wind speeds are meeting de-energization criteria.

HIGH RISK DECISION-MAKING

Most de-energization decisions are based on real-time weather observations within the POC. However, there are two categories of PSPS decision-making that are based on forecasting, in which de-energization of a circuit or segment could occur near the start of the POC, before real-time wind speeds have reached the de-energization threshold for the circuit.

1. High Risk Status Events (Urban Conflagrations)
   Through updated risk modeling, SCE has identified a subset of HFRA circuits that have a heightened potential to generate an urban conflagration at sustained wind speeds in excess of 40 mph for distribution and 56 mph for sub-transmission and transmission lines. If wind speeds in excess of these thresholds are forecast, distribution circuits or segments may be de-energized when wind speeds have reached 25 mph sustained or 35 mph gusts and are trending upward. For high-risk status transmission lines, those lines will be de-energized near the start of the POC.

2. High Risk Status Equipment
   Certain distribution circuit segments and transmission lines may undergo review for potentially susceptible system configurations that could sustain damage at sustained wind speeds in excess of 40 mph for distribution and 56 mph for sub-transmission and transmission lines. On a temporary basis, until those issues can be appropriately assessed and, if necessary, remediated, if wind speeds in excess of these thresholds are forecast, the affected distribution circuit or segment could be de-energized when wind speeds have reached 25 mph sustained or 35 mph gusts and are trending upward. For high-risk status transmission lines, those lines will be de-energized near the start of the POC.

In both categories, these circuits or segments of lines will remain de-energized until after patrol and inspection at the end of the event.

FORECASTING

SCE forecasts fire weather conditions using both wind speeds and a Fire Potential Index (FPI), which estimates the likelihood of a spark turning into a major wildfire.

WIND SPEEDS

SCE supercomputers run custom weather models that produce forecasts optimized for localized conditions within our service territory. These models have lower predictive errors than public models. The models are calibrated using historical wind events and data from our network of more than 1,950 weather stations, as well as public weather stations. SCE weather stations are located on or near most circuits. As the number of SCE weather stations recording point-specific weather data increases, we improve the accuracy and granularity of our forecasts. Real-time readings from these weather stations are publicly available.[4]

Attachment C-PSPS Event Data Workbook

FIRE POTENTIAL INDEX

The FPI for a given day and circuit is calculated from forecast wind speed, humidity and vegetation dryness (see appendix for formula — Figure 5). The variables used to generate the FPI score come from the Weather Research and Forecasting[5] and machine learning forecast models run by SCE, which have been optimized to reflect our specific geography and weather conditions. FPI is calculated using a whole-number scale with a range of 1 to 17.

Individual components of the FPI score are forecast hourly for each 2 km-by-2 km grid cell. The model is run twice a day and provides an hourly forecast for five days. The forecasts associated with each of the FPI components for each grid cell are then summarized by circuit in three-hour intervals. The 2-kilometer square resolution allows the models to assess weather in California's microclimates.

The forecast FPI is further refined and calibrated by integrating model guidance from proprietary data. These refined FPI values are used to determine which circuits are reasonably forecast to breach PSPS thresholds during the event. The values for these circuits are recorded on SCE's monitored circuit list (MCL).

Due to the relatively static nature of the fuels component of the FPI, when a circuit or circuit segment is assigned a POC, the circuit is considered to be meeting FPI criteria for the duration of the POC. The real-time FPI continues to be calculated, however, and is compared to the forecast FPI. For decision-making, we use the higher of the two values (forecast FPI or real-time FPI). This allows us to account for emergent weather conditions when real-time fire potential exceeds forecast conditions, which would prompt a recalculation of wind speed triggers.

FUEL MOISTURE DATA

Two measures of vegetation dryness are included in the FPI formula: live fuel moisture and dead fuel moisture.

Standardized data used to model live fuel moisture is provided by fire agencies and SCE (data can be seen on the Fire Environment Mapping System [FEMS] website[6]). SCE samples at 25 sites in seven fire-prone areas to augment fire agency data (Figure 1).

Samples of native vegetation from each of the sites are weighed, dried, and then weighed again to determine the vegetation's moisture content. The resulting data is one of the inputs into the FPI.

SCE also uses this data to adjust the FPI if observed values significantly deviate from forecast values.

Twice daily forecasts of dead fuel moisture are generated using mathematical algorithms that account for the effects of precipitation, temperature, and relative humidity on the vegetation.

DECISION-MAKING CRITERIA

FIRE POTENTIAL INDEX

FPI thresholds for de-energization are consistent across distribution, transmission and subtransmission circuits.

FPI thresholds are set individually for each of SCE's 14 Fire Climate Zones. (Figure 2) The baseline FPI threshold for most Fire Climate Zones is set at 13, based on a risk analysis of historical fire data.Circumstances when the baseline FPI is set below 13 include:

- Fire Climate Zone 1 (FCZ1) (Coastal region) The threshold for FCZ1 is set at 12 because probability calculations indicated a significantly higher ignition risk factor at an FPI threshold of 13 for this FCZ than for the other FCZs. On Catalina Island, the baseline FPI is set at 11 because of its extremely limited egress and constrained fire suppression capability.

- Circuits located in an active Fire Science Area of Concern (AOC)
  These are areas that Fire Sciences has identified where a heightened potential for fires poses a significant threat to life and property. AOCs are identified based on fire history, fuel type and amount, terrain, drought, egress, and potential community impact.

Circumstances under which FPI thresholds may be reduced

When broader fire weather concerns are identified, or when the circumstances of the event in certain areas or regions suggest additional risk, SCE may reduce the FPI threshold at which circuits would be de-energized. These threshold reductions are part of overall planned improvement efforts, as described in the SCE Wildfire Mitigation Plan to integrate FPI 2.0.[7]

WIND SPEEDS FOR DISTRIBUTION CIRCUITS

The baseline criteria for distribution circuits is the starting wind speed for determining when to de-energize, based on circuit construction and conductor type (bare wire or covered conductor). SCE sets baseline activation limits for each circuit or fully isolatable circuit segment (see box, page 9). For bare wire distribution circuits, these consider the lower of the National Weather Service's Wind Advisory level defined as 31 mph sustained wind speed and 46 mph gust wind speed.[8] This is the wind speed at which debris or vegetation may become airborne, as described by the Beaufort Wind Scale.[9] In some cases the baseline activation is the 99th percentile of historical wind speeds for the circuit which represents extreme and unusual wind activity for the area. For distribution circuits in which 100% of the wires have covered conductor, this baseline limit is set at 40 mph for sustained winds and 58 mph for gusts. This aligns with the NWS high wind warning level for wind speeds at which infrastructure damage might occur. Finally, there are a handful of outage-informed circuits that have legacy thresholds below the NWS advisory level because they have a history of local circuit outages at lower wind speeds.

Circuit-specific factors are used to adjust baseline criteria to determine activation windspeed thresholds. These factors include:

- Environmental impacts such as forecasted peak FPI during the period of concern
- Circuit health conditions based on existing documented potential hazards and findings from patrols within the seven days leading up to the period of concern
- Fire consequences, as determined by fire spread simulations

Event-specific factors are used to determine de-energization wind triggers. These factors include:

- Anticipated fire suppression resource availability
- Event size, including the number and type of circuits in scope for the event
- Event complexity, including resource availability and operational requirements to manage the event
- Declarations by NWS of Particularly Dangerous Situation (PDS) Red Flag Warning
- High Risk Status Events that include risk of urban conflagration or potentially susceptible system configurations (see high risk decision-making)

Starting three days out from the forecast event, actual FPI and wind speeds are continuously monitored. The PSPS Operations Team initiates actions to de-energize the applicable circuits when circuits either meet criteria or reach a percentage of wind speed triggers and are trending upward.

For transmission and subtransmission circuits, the baseline criteria is informed by the engineering and structural design ratings for each circuit. For subtransmission lines, the baseline wind criteria is 56 mph for sustained winds and 68 mph for gusts. For transmission lines, the baseline wind criteria is 68 mph or higher for sustained winds and 82 mph or higher for gusts, based on structural design standards.

After discounts, the minimum baseline activation criteria are forecast 42 mph sustained wind speed and 58 mph gust wind speed for subtransmission, and 51 mph sustained wind speed and 62 mph gust wind speed for transmission circuits, although these are subject to review, based on environmental factors and circuit health.

Circuit-specific factors are used to adjust baseline criteria to determine activation windspeed thresholds for transmission and sub-transmission. These factors include:

- Environmental impacts such as forecast peak FPI during the period of concern
- Circuit health conditions based on existing documented potential hazards and findings from patrols within the seven days leading up to the period of concern

Event-specific factors are used to determine de-energization wind triggers for transmission and sub-transmission circuits. These factors include:

- Anticipated fire suppression resource availability.
- Declarations by NWS of Particularly Dangerous Situation (PDS) Red Flag Warning.
- High Risk Status Events that include risk of urban conflagration or potentially susceptible system configurations (see high risk decision-making).

Subtransmission and transmission monitoring are similar to distribution monitoring; once the PSPS IMT is activated for the event, actual FPI and wind speeds are continuously monitored, and the PSPS operations team initiates actions to de-energize the applicable circuits when circuits either meet criteria or reach a percentage of wind speed triggers and are trending upward. Refer to Figure 4 for flowchart of decision-making criteria for transmission and subtransmission.

MONITORING AND DECISION-MAKING IN EVENTS

SCE monitors circuits automatically around the clock, and typically will activate for a PSPS event up to three days in advance of the start of the POC. (In cases of unexpected, emergent conditions meeting PSPS thresholds, this period could be shortened, or de-energization could be immediate.) At the beginning of this pre-event period, the incident management team (IMT) is activated to manage operations, notifications, customer mitigations and communications, and the following activities commence:

ESTABLISHING EVENT SCOPE AND TIMING

The meteorologists produce a monitored circuit list (MCL) and an associated POC table. The table includes a specific forecast start and end time for each circuit, broken down into three-hour time blocks. Initial notifications are sent to all customers and public safety partners.

The initial MCL and POC table are validated by the meteorologists and the fire science team once daily, beginning three days before the start of the POC. Starting one day before the POC, they are validated twice daily. Raw model data is refined using forecasting experience, other weather models and pattern recognition.

IN-EVENT RISK CALCULATION

The wildfire risks that are reduced through PSPS must be balanced against the potential public safety risks that are introduced by a temporary loss of power. An event-based quantitative comparison of risk scores (the in-event risk calculator) is used to inform de-energization decision-making. The calculation is produced 24 hours out from the start of the period of concern. The PSPS risks and the benefits of de-energization (wildfire risk) are modeled independently. These calculations are provided in SCE's post-event reports.

PRE-PATROLS IN THE FIELD

Where possible, every circuit in scope is patrolled before the arrival of the forecast POC, unless it was already patrolled within the previous seven days. Crews visually inspect the entire length of each circuit to find any imminent hazards and provide additional intelligence on field conditions. If maintenance concerns are discovered on a circuit in scope, repairs are expedited before the impending wind event. If repairs are not possible, the circuit thresholds will be discounted to reduce risk.

PUBLIC SAFETY COORDINATION

SCE communicates with public safety partners, including state agencies, emergency management agencies at the county level, and first responders, to inform them about the event. This includes providing details on the location of circuits within their jurisdictions and discussing any public safety concerns that need to be considered.

Priority notifications are sent to local and county jurisdictions, public safety partners and critical infrastructure providers starting at three days out, when possible.

The Liaison Officer (LNO) manages deployment of AREPs (Area Representatives) to emergency management partner emergency operations centers (EOCs), upon request.

Information is provided to public safety partners through a notification sequence and enhanced by access to Public Safety Partner Portal resources. The online portal provides these partners with enhanced and simplified access to event information.

Starting on the first full day of activation, SCE also provides dedicated daily briefings to:

- State agencies
- County and tribal representatives
- Critical infrastructure and critical facilities, and public sector agencies
- Community-based organizations

CUSTOMER NOTIFICATIONS

Notifications begin 72-48 hours ahead of the POC, when possible. Because initial notifications are based on three-day-ahead forecasting at the circuit level, they lack the precision of in-event notifications. Circuits might be removed or added to the monitored circuit list as the POC gets closer and forecast certainty increases.

LIVE FIELD OBSERVATIONS

Live field observers are stationed in the field at least two hours before the forecasted start of the event (when feasible). Observers are trained SCE employees who monitor circuits for any possible signs of failure and for environmental conditions that could accelerate the need to turn off power, such as potential for damage from wind gusts, airborne vegetation or other flying debris. Crews use handheld weather stations to provide readings to supplement information from fixed weather stations and assist with switching operations.

PSPS OPERATIONS TEAM DECISION-MAKING PROCESS

Real-time weather station and electric grid information is gathered by the Integrated PSPS Event Management System (iPEMS) and compared with the de-energization triggers. This information is auto-populated every 10 minutes with updated wind speed and weather information. Field conditions are provided to the operations team in real time. As a circuit, or segment approaches its de-energization trigger, it is de-energized.

The PSPS Operations team executes circuit switching plans, when possible, to reduce the number of customers impacted.

ADDRESSING PUBLIC SAFETY CONCERNS

Requests to delay de-energization or reenergize circuits are addressed on a case-by-case basis. Potential reasons to delay the de-energization of a circuit could include the need to power water pumps for fire suppression or evacuations in progress. These requests may come from fire agencies or from other emergency management officials during an event. SCE maintains a full-time team of fire managers who are deployed to fire agency emergency operations centers as requested to assist in collaboration during wildfires.

Given that PSPS de-energization involves entire circuits or circuit segments, it is not possible to isolate individual customers or locations.

PATROL AND RE-ENERGIZATION

The PSPS Operations team monitors all circuits that are de-energized as well as circuits that have not met the de-energization triggers throughout the event. On a circuit-by-circuit basis, when winds decrease below criteria, the operations team, in consultation with weather services, will recommend re-energization after the line is patrolled.

As the winds abate, field crews begin restoration patrols. Restoration is typically accomplished within eight hours. However, some circuits require foot or helicopter patrol and can only be safely patrolled in daylight. As such, these circuits might remain de-energized overnight, especially in the fall and winter months. When possible, helicopters are staged nearby, prior to the start of the POC to start restoration patrol early in the morning. And whenever possible, customers on difficult-to-patrol circuits are switched to more accessible circuits for restoration, so that circuits with no customers on them will be the last in line for restoration.

For multiday events, with gaps of several hours or more, field crews will attempt to restore customers before the subsequent POC begins, even if this is temporary and will require a repeat de-energization. This is only possible when there is enough time between local POCs for a complete patrol and restoration effort.

POST EVENT REPORTS

After the conclusion of every PSPS event, SCE files a post-event report with the CPUC. These reports are required under CPUC Resolution ESRB-8 and use a CPUC-mandated template. Post-event reports identify the reasons for any PSPS shutoffs, the areas affected, the number of customers impacted, the actual weather conditions, and the methods used to notify the public. All post-event reports are available on the CPUC's Utility PSPS Reports: Post-Event, Pre-Season and Post-Season webpage, and are typically filed 10 business days after the conclusion of the event. Each report includes after-action recommendations, if there are any, and categorizations of any customer complaints received during the event.

PSPS PREPAREDNESS

PSPS preparedness activities take place year-round. Pre-planning work includes reviewing circuits for fuel risk and developing process and tool enhancements, such as updating circuit switching plans for circuits in high fire risk areas.

CIRCUIT SEGMENT REVIEWS

Circuit segments are removed from consideration for PSPS when the wildfire risk is temporarily or permanently abated, using an exception review process. Circuit segment exceptions are identified when SCE begins preparing detailed designs for grid hardening activities or through specific feedback received from field teams with knowledge of changing conditions in specific areas. An example of a circuit segment that is removed from consideration would be a segment traversing a recent burn scar where there is little or no vegetation posing an ignition risk. Segments that are upstream from segments at risk and that cannot be switched to other circuits might still be in scope for PSPS.

SWITCHING PLAN DEVELOPMENT

SCE develops switching plans for all circuits in scope for each specific event, to determine whether circuit segments could be transferred to other circuits not in scope using field isolation devices. Customers can be switched either before or during events. In some cases, switching is not possible. For example, adjacent segments could also be in scope for PSPS, or the segment could be at the end of the circuit, reducing options for switching.

Switching plans can be used in some situations to remove critical infrastructure from circuits under consideration for shutoff (if the infrastructure is not located on a segment at immediate risk).

SCE PSPS TERMINOLOGY

California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC): California regulatory agency with oversight responsibilities for California's investor-owned utilities (IOUs).

Consequence score: Used to quantify risk in decision-making.

Emergency Operations Center (EOC): Command center for emergency management. For PSPS, SCE typically uses a virtual EOC based in Microsoft Teams.

Fire Climate Zone (FCZ): SCE has 14 Fire Climate Zones, which are areas with similar vegetation, weather, topography and fire history. These zones are helpful in relating weather and fuels with fire activity as these types of datasets are more useful when aggregated over larger areas.

Fire Potential Index (FPI): A formula using inputs on wind speed, humidity, fire potential and vegetation dryness to estimate fire risks.

High Fire Risk Area (HFRA): A region in our service area where the risk of significant wildfires is elevated. These areas are identified and monitored to inform decision-making. The map is reviewed annually and circuits can be added or removed.

Incident Management Team (IMT): Team structure to carry out PSPS and other emergency operations. Used by all government agencies and most leading utilities to ensure common terms, structures, processes and forms.

In-Event Risk Calculator: A decision-making tool that assesses and compares potential public safety risk (PSPS risk) and the benefits of de-energization (wildfire risk).

In scope: Circuits at risk are deemed to be in scope when they have a reasonable chance of de-energization.

Monitored circuit list (MCL): List of all in scope circuits including a specific timeframe for when they are expected to meet de-energization criteria.

Period of concern (POC): The timeframe when a circuit is forecast to meet de-energization criteria.

Post event report: CPUC-mandated report filed after the conclusion of each event and available for viewing on the CPUC website.

Urban conflagration: Urban conflagrations are destructive fires that spread from structure to structure in urban areas, rather than primarily through wildland fuels.

APPENDIX

CALCULATING FPI

FPI is calculated using the following inputs (Figure 5)

- Wind speed: Sustained wind velocity at 6 meters above ground level.
- Dew point depression: The dryness of the air, as represented by the difference between air temperature and dew point temperature at 2 meters above ground level.
- Energy release component (ERC): "The available energy (BTU) per unit area (square foot), within the flaming front at the head of a fire; reflects the contribution of all live and dead fuels to potential fire intensity."[10]
- 10-hour dead fuel moisture: A measure of the amount of moisture in quarter-inch diameter dead fuels, such as small twigs and sticks.
- 100-hour dead fuel moisture: A measure of the amount of moisture in 1- to 3-inch diameter dead fuels, i.e., dead, woody material such as small branches.
- Live fuel moisture: A measure of the amount of moisture in living vegetation.
- Normalized Difference Vegetation Index (NDVI): "Used to quantify vegetation greenness and is useful in understanding vegetation density and assessing changes in plant health."[11]

Dryness Level is a function of ERC and the 10-hour/100-hour dead fuel moisture time-lag.

Fuel loading modifier associated with low, moderate, and heavy fuel loading corresponding to 0.50, 0.75 and 1.00, respectively. This represents a measure of the amount of vegetation on the ground.

$$FPI = \left(\frac{DL}{LFM} + G\right) FLx + Wx$$

Moisture content of the living vegetation.

Degree of green-up of the annual grass based on the NDVI.

Weather component of the FPI, also known as the weather score, and references a lookup table of paired sustained wind speed and dew point depression values as in the figure below. The value range is 0 to 6.
